

Monthly Update

Fund commentary

- Asian equity markets outperformed as political uncertainty in the United States again took centre stage and growth fears shifted from emerging markets to the US. A 12-month low for the Australian Dollar prompted a change in the portfolio's positioning.

Positive contributors to performance included Amorepacific, Sinopec Kantons and Astro Malaysia. Amorepacific rose 14%, rebounding from its 12-month lows after Chinese tourist arrivals to Korea were stronger than anticipated. Sinopec Kantons advanced 8%, reacting positively to continued strength in Chinese oil imports which benefits their crude oil jetties business. Astro Malaysia advanced 8% on better than expected results and continued M&A rumours.

The Australian Dollar depreciated 4%, assisting performance. We have gradually increased our Australian Dollar position over the past six months via a put option strategy. At 31 December the portfolio had an effective Australian Dollar exposure of 35.5%, representing a meaningful shift in positioning.

Detractors to performance included Baidu and copper holdings Turquoise Hill Resources and MMG. Growing concerns around global growth continues to negatively impact copper producers. We remain confident that a supply deficit will arise in the coming years benefiting our holdings. Baidu declined 16% despite no company specific news; rather its performance was in line with other Chinese ADRs.

The invested position remained largely unchanged month over month. We are in the process of initiating several new positions taking advantage of the weakness seen in regional markets over the past six months.

PM Capital Limited, founded in 1998, is a globally-focussed fund manager that invests money on behalf of private clients, the clients of financial advisers and institutions. PM Capital's goal is to build long term wealth by investing in global markets with patience and conviction.

Investment philosophy

We aim to build long term wealth together with our co-investors by finding and exploiting investment anomalies. Using a focused, patient and considered approach to finding simple investment ideas produces the best environment for creating that long term wealth.

Our experience has shown us that while the market is largely efficient, it can, and regularly does, misprice a small proportion of companies. This mispricing can arise as a result of any number of reasons, but is most often associated with disruptive or cyclical change, new information which is misunderstood by the market as having a permanent impact when it is in fact transitory, or just because they are operating in a sector out of favour with investors.

Our unique process is based on scanning the world for those companies (hence the radar in our logo), discovering the associated valuation anomalies and extracting value from them. We buy good businesses at a good price; businesses that we believe are being valued differently to their long term intrinsic value, but will return to their correct value over time.
